WorldDoc's next generation Personal Health Record (PHR) combines an individual's comprehensive health information with innovative, interactive online tools. An individual's health information is analyzed and personalized, actionable feedback is given to the member to help them improve their health and manage their health conditions.

- Actionable Information at the Right Place and the Right Time
- Personalized Care Experience
- Engagement of Total Population

• Interoperability – WorldDoc integrates and analyzes health risk assessment (HRA) information, medical and pharmacy claims, laboratory test results, biometric data and self-reported information. WorldDoc pre-populates the PHR with imported information making it more accurate and effective.

• Member Messages – Targeted alerts and messages are pushed to members on a variety of health issues, including medication cost savings, test/procedures reminders and lab values results.

• Portability - With the ability to synchronize data back and forth with platforms like Microsoft HealthVault, the PHR is a more comprehensive life long view of a member's total health picture.

• Shared Information – WorldDoc allows the user to grant access to their family members and care providers to improve communication and ensure an accurate picture of health. WorldDoc also supports other initiatives such as disease management or coaching to make those programs more effective.

• Reports – aggregated reporting to payers – WorldDoc reporting shows more than just usage of the PHR, it shows number of care gaps that have been closed and overall cost savings achieved.
